

Job Spec: Mobile Applications Developer

BlueskyNorth Ltd is currently seeking a Mobile Applications Developer to join our development team on a wide variety of projects for a roster of high profile clients. You'll be working with a team of producers, designers and animators to create world-class games, applications and other compelling, entertaining small screen experiences.

Responsibilities

- Develop games/applications for mobile devices
- Participate in project meetings
- Write and review technical specifications
- Self-manage your tasks and time
- Create frameworks, templates and documentation for others to use
- Liaise with clients and 3rd party developers

Requirements

- 2+ years developing industry standard content, games and applications
- Object-Oriented Programming exposure
- Proficiency in ActionScript 2.0 / 3.0 (Flash/Flex/Air) and or
- C, C++, Objective-C, Java
- Motivated research and development in new technologies
- Ability to communicate and collaborate effectively with teammates
- Motivated self-starter who likes working on fast-paced projects
- Good English written and verbal communication skills

Ideal

- Bsc in Computer Science or equivalent
- Flash Lite development experience
- Game and/or application programming knowledge in other languages (Android, Symbian, JavaScript)
- XML and XSLT
- Server-side development (PHP, MySql)

Blueskynorth Ltd

BlueskyNorth Ltd is a world leading digital media company specialising in delivering rich, award winning media experiences on mobile phone and handheld devices to a global audience. Since it's inception in 2003 BlueskyNorth has grown from strength to strength by combining a high level of creativity with a deep knowledge of technology.

In addition to an exciting future in a growing, dynamic company, we offer a competitive salary and the chance to work with an enthusiastic, innovative team in a central Newcastle location.

If you think you're the right person for the role please send us your work/code examples (URL's preferred) and current CV. All applications should be submitted via email to recruitment@blueskynorth.com. No phone calls and no Employment Agencies, please.